Answer the following in the best way you are able to. Restate the question when you answer. Then answer in complete sentences.

1. What was your favorite part of the year? Why?

2. Which story did you like the best this year? Why?

3. What is one good habit you worked on this year?

4. Were you able to do it everyday? If yes, how does it feel? If not, what are you struggling with?

5. What is prayer? Explain in your own words.

6. Do you pray everyday? If so, what do you pray for?

7. How do you show your love to your parents everyday? Explain. You may give an example also.

8. Name one lesson you learned from Swami's life?

9. What is the name of the program you attend?

10. Have you helped anyone at home and at school this year? Tell us how.

Home: _____

School: _____

11. Draw your favorite memory from this year. Label your picture.

Note to gurus: This handout gives all 32 of Swami's Maxims—the graphics found throughout each of the Syllabus books—here in one place. For Groups 1 & 2, print these pages (black & white is fine too), cut out the specific ones relating to the lesson you are teaching, and give to each of the children to stick in their notebooks. For Groups 3 & 4, instead of printing and giving, show them the graphic and ask them to draw it into their notebooks. It is a good opportunity to allow them to pause their minds from thinking and discussing, and shift into a different gear for a few minutes. Show all children Swami's signature in the bottom right corner—it is how He signs His letters and is His handwriting.
